

Sharing a meal can be significant for all sorts of reasons.

Sometimes it's simply a way to make someone feel welcome or a way to say thank you. Sometimes it's a way to remember someone or to celebrate a special occasion.

Sometimes, though, it's a bit more complicated. Sometimes it's a subtle way to show respect or express gratitude; a way to say, "I've got your back."

Whether you've known the person sitting next to you your whole life or you've only just met, you're both here for the same reason: to help serving soldiers, veterans and their families in times of need. We'd like to thank you.

So raise a glass, dig in and please – dig as deep as you can.
